Worth Thinking About. In the Weston Democrat which ca to hand last evening, and which is chiefly devoted to the Convention, we find a ngthy letter on that subject written by Mr. Wm. E. Arnold. Mr. Arnold is an intelligent and influential gentleman who leading spirits who are laboring to bring We have no intention of reviewing the letter, but wish to call the atter tion of our readers to a single position.

Provision should be made in the Constitution for extending me credit of the State by the issue of her bonds on long time, and a sale thereof with a sinking fund, and the monies applied to the build fund, and the monies applied to the building of good roads throughout all parts of the Commonwealth. It is the only way in which the State could be made populous and wealthy. Five millions of dollars judiciously expended in building macadamized roads and turnpikes throughout the State, would double the population and quadruple the taxes in the counties where these roads are now so much needed. into the dismal hole on that particular day. Perhaps he was not very well. More likely he was sick of his hard life. in which the State could be made populous and wealthy. Five millions of dollars judiciously expended in building macadamized roads and turnpixes throughout the State, would double the population and quadruple the taxes in the counties where these roads are now so much needed.

When it is proposed to lay new burdens of taxation like these on us, it is well to think about who would have them to carry. Ohlo county has year paid the very county for the state of this little story. We give the substance of this little story.

to carry. Ohio county last year paid the State over seventy-two thousand dollarsone-eighth of the whole State revenue. Ohio and a half dozen other counties have always paid three-fourths of all the taxes of the State, while many of the interior counties were wholly relieved from taxation for several years. Now it is proposed that new taxes shall be laid for purposes under whose operation the counties that under whose operation the counties that pay little or no taxes would get nearly all the benefits of their expenditure, and those that pay nearly all the taxes would get little or none. The roads which it is proposed to make by State taxation are resemblement worth the philoscopies at the roads which it is proposed to make by State taxation are pay little or no taxes would get nearly all gers on an ocean steamer, proposed to make by State taxation are needed most in countles like Gilmer, Braxton, Calhoun, Nicholas, Pocahontas, Tucker, &c.; and these happen to be the counties that would pay little or nothing towards building them. Ohio county take fire, and they are aboard and survive pays as much tax as some nineteen or the catastrophe, they rush into print with twenty counties of that class covering more than half the area of the State wherein three-fourths of all these for the catastrophe, they rush into print with ancient. Or, if they are killed, some relative pours into the shuddering ear of a reporter the parting words of the predestrophe. ternal improvements would be made, ternal improvements would be made, tined victime, conveying their mysterious Would that be an equitable or agreeable dread that something dreadful was going imposition on the tax-payers of this corroborating this childish idea is tuc left. county? Why should the owners of our ter, or statement, of some person who did warehouses and nail mills be taxed to not take passage in a vessel that was build roads in the wilds of Nicholas or lost, or on a train that was burned up or burled in a creek, being demanding from taxing us to pay the current presentment of danger." This kind of expenses of State government. It is a evidence is always very positive and circumstantial, and much relied on by people who cheristi these title fancies. Of earnest, active and determined engineers course, it is not worth our while gravely to refute a proposition so manifestly abbodies of wild lands in the counties through which lines of improvement are through which lines of improvement are bodies of the word o earnest, active and determined engineers projected. They will, in large numbers, be members of the Convention if one is sons gifted with so-called clairvoyant powheld. They are men of brains, means and influence; and it a new Constitution and influence; and it a new Constitution of the control of is made that part of it will be shaped just as they want it. Nothing is surer.

It was very difficult to keep the internal improvement policy out of our present titution, although it was made in the midst of a war, whose result none were sure of and when no such works could be prosecuted. If the constitution is revised now, that policy will assuredly be engrafted in it. Under its unequal operation some of the mountain countles would certainly resp great advantages; but how about the Panhandle counties, and others like Jeffer-son and Berkeley? The owners of wild lands would be enriched, but at whose expense? The tax list would show.

It is proposed to make an internal improvement debt of five millions to build roads to the wild lands of JONATHAN M. BRYNKET, JUNGO CAMBAN, COLJ JOHN S.

Those near mad dear to family and friends are sleeping the dramines alumbs; into which, had they calmy adopted DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREAT

Dr. Schenck has, in his own case, proved that wherever sufficient withilfy remains, that viwherever sufficient 'stall'sy' remains, that vi-taility, by his medicines—and his directions for their use, is quickaned into healthful vigor.

In this stalement there is nothing presump-tions. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times sub-sanitated by living and visible works. The theory of the core by Dr. Schenck's medicines is a simple as it is unfaiting. Its philosophy re-quires no argument. It is self-assaring, self-con-vincing.
